Epistemic confrontation

Look at the system of the world. Observe the order. Recognize the source. Respond with gratitude.

01 Look at the system of the world

02 Observe the order

03 Recognize the source

04 Respond with gratitude

Lately as I create my new project, I try to keep these 4 bullet points in mind whenever I approach my work. I try to find new directions and approaches in a way where I grow but at the same time I do not let it confine the divine. I try to find the balance and when I find it, I let go and let balance govern my creation. I repeat these 4 concepts above over and over again. The more I do it, the more it melts into my consciousness
